

Detail Itinerary

Manaslu Tsum valley trek is more secluded but stunning than many, with uneven vertical routes in Manaslu Region. Manaslu region puts forward a fine intermingle of cultural hodgepodge and unbelievable peak views including the view of the eighth highest mountain in the whole world, Manaslu (8156m). It is situated in the north-west part of Kathmandu. With friendly, generous people living Buddhist culture whose lives have been untouched by modern life makes your trip more amazing.

Manaslu Tsum Valley Trek is recognized as the “hidden valley” as it is positioned in a very distant region. It lies between the Ganesh Himal to the south, Himal Chuli and Buddha Himal to the west, and Sringi Himal on the north. The word Tsum comes from the Tibetan word ‘Tsombo’, which literally means vibrant. The people living here are vibrant but their life avoided by modern development and their unique way of life has remained untouched. Here, you can also enjoy homestay services.

The trekking track of Tsum Manaslu trekking follows a very aged salt-trading path all along the Budi Gandaki River. And then, we will also pass through the superb gorge connecting the Ganesh Himal as well as Manaslu ranges. Furthermore, you will get ahead of the Nupri valley. There the populace residing who appears similar to Tibetan outwardly. Likewise, the trail continues parallel to the border of Tibet, with amazing views of Himalchuli peaks, Ngadi, Manaslu North and several more. Another interesting part of the Tsum Manaslu trekking would be passing through the (5200 m) Larkey La pass, the highest pass. While moving downward to the Marsyangdi Valley, the implausible views of Annapurna Himalayas, Himlung Himal, and many other peaks will totally enthrall you.

Nepal Kailash Trekking helps you to go for Tsum Manaslu trekking which will be one of the remarkable treks in your life. In general, 10 extremely large peaks having loftiness over 6500m will greet you during the trek including several above 7000m. Plus, discover the lifestyle of Tibetans, different stupas, monasteries, natural streams, varieties of plant life, waterfalls, hot springs and much more will appeal you during the trek.
