

Detail Itinerary

Saribung Peak Climbing (this is an expedition regarding fees, not a peak climbing), which stands (6380m), is located in the isolated part of Mustang near Damodar Himal. It lies in the western part of Nepal which has been recently started for trekkers. Comparatively with other high altitude peaks in Nepal, Saribung Peak is much easier; however, there are some technical icy ways that make the trek a bit tough. Saribung peak climbing is required just peak climbing fee, you do not buy a special permit of Upper Mustang.

The vital part of this Saribung trek is that you will be allowed to enter the restricted region of upper Mustang, a quite isolated area where you will be looking at some of the finest carved gorges, rock formation, royal palaces, Lo Manthang, NamtaKhola Valley, Buddhist Gompas and numerous more. Saribung peak climbing the best season to attempt this amazing peak in spring and autumn because the weather conditions are mild at that time and it makes the trek a lot easier. We start the trek after taking 25 minutes flight from Pokhara to Jomsom and heading towards upper mustang by crossing high passes. Later, we move on to Kagbeni, TehnChele, Gelling, Tsarang, Lo Manthang, Luri Gompa, GhumaTanki, NamtaKhola and numerous places.

Finally, after all, the walking, we arrive at Saribung Base Camp where you will be resting for a day and take a good look at the places around. After a day, you will be ready for the climb to Saribung Peak. But people who fear heights can accommodate themselves at the Saribung Base Camp enjoying views and doing what they want. Our journey comes to an end this day by going back to Jomsom or can be heading towards to Nar Phu valley and Besisahar and then drive back to Kathmandu. But the trek rests upon you, if you want to trek more, we can take you to nearby places and make sure that you are truly satisfied with your trip.

So, if you are looking for not so hard but quite an adventurous trek, Saribung is the best one you can get and we (Nepal Kailash Trekking) are going to make sure that you get everything you need for this trip. If you have any further queries, our contact number is on the website.
